

JAMES E. CARAWAY

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Education:

Ph.D. Philosophy and Systematic Theology, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia. Dissertation: God as Dynamic Actuality: The Reality of God in the Theologies of John B. Cobb, Jr., and Schubert M. Ogden

Ed.D. Higher Educational Administration and Supervision, with a double collateral in Continuing and Higher Education, The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tennessee. Dissertation: A Theoretical Development of Relation Oriented Organizational Management

M.Div. Systematic Theology (Research and Teaching), Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia

B.A. cum laude, with majors both in English and History, East Tennessee State University, Johnson City, Tennessee

Professional Experience:

2007-present Professor of Higher Educational Leadership for the Doctor of Education Program, Union Institute & University, Cincinnati, Ohio, Academic Center

2006-2007 (Full) Professor of Philosophy and (Full) Professor in Graduate Higher Educational Administration, Lynn University, Boca Raton, Florida; joint appointment in The School of Arts and Sciences and in the Graduate College of Education

1999-2000 Dean, Dowling Honors College, Dowling College, Oakdale, Long Island, New York; Dean, The School of Arts and Sciences, 1990-2000

Faculty positions with New York University, New York City, New York (Graduate courses in Educational Leadership, Management/ Administration); University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Dowling College et al.; taught undergraduate and doctoral level courses in educational leadership and served on doctoral dissertation committees

Community, Civic, and Professional Services:

Grants/ Fund Raising; obtained federal and state grants and funding for over one million dollars while at the University of Tennessee

Editor-in-Chief, The Dowling College Press, 1995 to 1998

SAEOPP JOURNAL, Editorial Board; Executive Member, 1988 to Present

Mediterranean Studies, Co-Editor, 1990-1995

Mediterranean Perspectives, Editor, 1995 to 1998

Honors and Organizational Memberships:

Fellow, Society for Values in Higher Education

Board of Trustees, American University of Rome, Italy

SCHOLARLY ACTIVITIES

Interdisciplinary Scholarship:

Conference Presentation (within last ten years)

“Successful and Exemplary Advising and Student Services Will Be Embedded in the Teaching/Learning Situation: One Highly Successful Program.” NACADA National Annual Conference, Denver, Colorado, October 2, 2011.

“Successful Student Services Initiatives Will Be Embedded in the Teaching Learning Situation: Programs for Student Success and Retention.” NACADA 9th District Annual Meeting, San Diego, California, March 2-5, 2011.

“Beyond the Fifth Discipline,” Sixth International Conference on Social Values, Oxford University, July 3-5, 2002.

Published Essays and Papers (within last ten years)

“Beyond the Fifth Discipline,” Immortal Longings: Business, Education and Training, A Value-Laden Process, pp. 87-111. Oxford: University Press of America, 2003. (with Oxford University and Adelphi University).

Scholarship of Engagement, Service, and Social Action:

Program Development

Developed, implemented, secured funding for, and managed The Educational Advancement Program, The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tennessee.

Developed faculty evaluation programs and student advisement programs for entire Colleges.

Developed and administered faculty development programs.

Developed and administered self-paced individualized courses for nontraditional students; a freshman English and mathematics program; and a program leading to a B.A. in philosophy and/or interdisciplinary studies as well as a Master of Arts in Liberal Studies.

Consultative Services

Consultant in professional development, leadership development, program management, motivation, effective teaching for a variety of colleges, universities, public schools, and professional and service organizations.

Engaged in a variety of consulting activities in management/ administration. Published several papers in management and presented papers on management theory and practice at many national and international conferences.